Angels in the balcony along with songs so soft and sweet

What's wrong with love?

You thought you'd found someone

But now the days have dragged that feeling out

What's wrong with love?

So you think you have had enough?

These days now you don't seem so tough

I heard that you've been feeling down

Someday soon now love will come around, alright

Someday soon now love will come around

In all the places you have searched

First comes pleasure then comes hurt

It's bad, bad luck

It's a tournament of roses, dear, the beauty and the pain so clear

You better pick, pick yourself back up

So you think you have had enough?

These days now you don't seem so tough

I heard that you've been feeling down

Someday soon now love will come around, alright

Someday soon now love will come around

So you think you have had enough?

These days now you don't seem so tough

I heard that you've been feeling down

Someday soon now love will come around

Someday soon now love will come around

Someday soon now love will come around, around for you

Someday soon now love will come around, around

Someday soon now love will come around
