

John Ralston

"Storm Without a Sea"

Visit "Storm Without a Sea" on MotoLyrics.com

In a moonlit park, in the belly of the beast
In a stolen car underneath the dirty sheets
We shouldn't flinch but we need the release

Morning
Calming slowly
Like a storm without the sea
Last night's been over for weeks

If the devil wins you're gonna need the receipt
To wipe the printed grin from your sharpened cloroxed teeth
Now I forget my sins like the trees forget their leaves

Morning
Calming slowly
Like a storm without the sea
Last night's been over for weeks

Visit John Ralston page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.