

John Ralston

"The Bottom of Everything"

Visit "The Bottom of Everything" on MotoLyrics.com

I wish that I had wings I could fly
That my lungs did not need oxygen to survive
I would float off way up in the sky
To search through the heavens for new forms of life

Cause when people say, "I love you," they can mean so many things
That's why I sing
To get to the bottom
The bottom of everything

I'm your mistake
I'm a crack in the ice
A pillar of salt
You should never look twice
I heard the joy of living was nice
But I see the struggle like it's my birthright

And when people say, "I love you," they can mean so
many things
That's why I sing
To get to the bottom
The bottom of everything

Visit John Ralston page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.