dear sarah shu,
I leave for you
all I knew about this job on microcassette for further review what it meant to me how you'll make it dear, hopefully it's dangerous here yes it's dangerous here

peer round corners with dental mirrors, heed the threats, taking cautionary measures, in the end, it is love you'll have to learn to survive

dear sarah shu,
I leave for you
all I knew about this job
on palmcorder for future review your office will flood every night, it's water, don't try to fight it suspend all your files using my system of hanging wires break apart what I connected show what I only suggested

'cause in the end it was love I had to learn to survive picture me by the window sill wrapped in copper wire, my autumn sleeves, with torn up directives spread round the floor like shoreham leaves picture me locking office door, now kneeling down on the floor, screaming: "protection, I can make it, I can make it!"

peer round corners with dental mirrors,

heed the threats, taking cautionary measures, but in the end, it is love you'll have to learn to survive

so long, sarah shu, farewell to you,
stay calm, stay sweet, regards from the other side of the teeth

break apart what I connected
we had to learn to survive
