

John Vanderslice "The Mansion"

Visit "The Mansion" on MotoLyrics.com

At dawn I walked across my front lawn
Humming some bloodying, nordic song
It was raked and cut and comforting
To comfort I said so long
I stole my girl from her backyard

We jumped on a train
(anacostia, va)
To greyhound across the united states

We set off in hope of changing our lives
But settled instead on holiday inn, riverside

I woke up in the morning all alone
I walked down to the lobby and found her on the phone
"david" she said "I miss you I'm coming home"
I pulled her by the arm, she grabbed me by the throat

I went to the room and threw all her things
Off the 17th floor balcony and set out...

We set off in hope of changing our lives
But settled instead on holiday inn, riverside

Visit John Vanderslice page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.