"Sit Tight"

Sit tight, it's your version of alive
You keep your molecules inside
I know you know desire is not so polite

Take a quick breath, do you feel what's inside?

Restraint is the frame you found
But I see your soul as Juan Miro
Maybe a Chagall

Escaping through your eyes like a liquid time

Take a quick breath, do you feel what's inside?
Take a quick breath, do you still feel?

Your tongue is twisted silk like
Into ragged reason, untie your disguise
Come into the sunlight
There you are in sight

The reason is, the reason is
The reasons are
There for you to ignore

You drift into the wind of love
And all you desired and dreamed of
Is found under your feet
It was there all the time

I know you feel alone
Those pictures are never gonna leave my head
Your tears so heavy
They're breaking down doors inside your head

Someday, you're gonna find her
She will be almost blinded
By the light so bright
You keep inside your heart, heavy as lead

I know you feel alone
Those pictures are never gonna leave my head
Your tears so heavy

They're breaking down doors in your head, in your head

Someday, you're gonna find her
She will be almost blinded
By the light so bright
You keep inside your heart
