When the war was over
And the lines crossed over
When the smoke has cleared
Things just ain't as they appeared

But every time I call your name
I wish that you would do the same
I keep on tellin' you
I do exactly you tell me to do

It was a sad day in Berlin
The day you set your foot in
When the walls came down
You left, you left with out a sound

From your soft sweet voice
If I had another choice
I'da probably bit my tongue
How's I supposed to know you're the one?

When the war was over
And the lines crossed over
When the smoke has cleared
Things just ain't as they appeared

But every time I call your name
I wish that you would do the same
I keep on tellin' you
I do exactly you tell me to do
