We've been looking for the holes in the sky
I don't want no other girl
My hands are dry
And we pissed off all the saints too many times
I don't want no other girl
That's all I know
And these blue buttons make your face look so cold
I her the crying city lights I left behind
And if the stars could do anything at all
(You see them only when they fall)
There would be no more goddamn
Rock'n'roll

And it feels like all I've got
And it feels like crap

(Girls they gonna come
Shiny rockets from another land
They will take us back
Just before the heavy sky breaks down)
I've been looking through these eyes for so long
But I don't want no other girl
If you just always let me
Look and don't answer you at all
And all my questions sound so loud
But they're just mostly

All I've got, and it feels right
All I've got, and it feels like crap

And all those days he spent just drawing posters
Smoking cigarettes
And growing hair
And every night he took the hedgehogs from the streets
And flew back kites
But doesn't know why
