I was on my way to you and I was worried
I was all torn up and nervous 'cause I knew that you'd be gone
I knocked and crossed my fingers while I waited
And I couldn't hide the teardrops when I walked away alone

It's all over, it's all over, my heart echoed it's all over Every minute that you cry for her is wasted don't you know
It's all over, it's all over, my heart echoed it's all over
Stop your cryin' turn around and let her go

I'd been runnin' 'round in circles like a baby
I was in a daze because I loved you so, I couldn't see I was broken in a million little pieces
When I saw enough to realize, you didn't care for me

It's all over, it's all over, my heart echoed Every minute that you cry for her is wasted don't you
know
It's all over, it's all over, so forget her Stop your cryin' turn around and let her go, let her go, boy, let her go
