The whole world's asleep and it's a-quiet in here I can feel your heart beat as I hold you near Then I feel you touching me and I hear this beautiful sound
It's a melody soft and sweet it's the love I found

And it's the song in the night and it feels so right lying next to you

When you touch me this way the music plays the whole night through
And love's melody serenades me when you hold me
tight
I hear violins and love begins with a song in the night

The sweetest music I know is the sound of your name And when the lights are low I sing it over and over again
When you give yourself to me and we love the night away
A symphony inside of me starts to play

And it's the song in the night and it feels so right lying
next to you

When you touch me this way the music plays the whole
night through
And love's melody serenades me when you hold me
tight
I hear violins and love begins with a song in the night

And it's the song in the night and it feels so right lying
next to you
When you touch me this way the music plays the whole
night through
And love's melody serenades me when you hold me
tight
I hear violins and love begins with a song in the night

And it's the song in the night and it feels so right lying
next to you
When you touch me this way the music plays the whole

night through
And love's melody serenades me when you hold me
tight
I hear violins and love begins with a song in the night
