A Tequila Sunrise greeted me this morning
'Cause I got tight, spent the whole damn night feelin' low
You told me goodbye without any warning
So I got the urge to take the big silver bird
And I wound up in Mexico

They say that Mexico is the place to go and they had it right

'Cause the pretty Señoritas gonna let me go later
tonight
We'll love the night away while the guitars play as only they can do
Hello Mexico, and adios baby to you

You'll be hard to forget, but I'm willin' to bet I'll get through it

And in time I'll learn to love that little dead worm more than you From Johnny Walker Red, to Tequila in bed, just might do it
A Señorita alays where the morgan plays And right now I just don't care who

They say that Mexico is the place to go and they had it
'Cause the pretty Señoritas gonna let me go later
tonight
We'll love the night away while the guitars play as only
they can do
Hello Mexico, and adios baby to you

Hello Mexico, and adios baby to you
