Another year gone by,
But still I can't say that I learned much
I still chug my caffeine,
And I still hate God.
Another year gone by but still I can't tell why I cry so much.
Do I need love or just a blowjob?

Cuz it seems like life's a party
Where everyone gets drunk and laid
But me

It's a beautiful night, but I can't say that it helps much Life is still a lengthy suicide pact
And it's a beautiful night, and that I wished I didn't give a fuck
I should have hopped that train, then never looked back

Cuz it seems like life's a party, where everyone gets drunk and laid, but me.
It seems like life's a party, where everyone's to fucking smashed to leave.
