The love was share today won't change our seperate ways

But things like that don't matter at the start.
Temptation's like the tide
Can't wash the trurh aside

The end of an illusion's never far.

There's no questions
There's no answers

When we touch we take our chances

We're so sure no one can take our love away.

Lonely lovers
Lonely lovers

We dream of love and hope there is a place

Lonely lovers need no others

So we kept tryin' to hold on
We kept tryin' to drive the dark away.

The words we tried to say got drowned out by the rain

But passion's only language is the heart.
We ran
But couldn't hide
Forbidden love must die

The end of an illusion leaves it's mark
Leaves it's mark.
