She doesn't wanna brush him off
She doesn't wanna lead him on
She doesn't wanna give him any false hope
But she doesn't want him gone

He's just patiently wandering and waiting
For her to make up her mind
Is it all over already
Or could it be love this time?

It's just another injured heart
He's had it broken in the past
He didn't mean to fall so hard
And he certainly didn't mean to fall so fast

There's so many reasons that he should forget her
But he can't get her out of his mind
Is it all over already
Or could it be love this time?

Hey, there flowing river, tell me what to do
I gotta have an answer, I need to know the truth
Am I still the joker? Am I still the fool?
Will I get the chance to share this love?
Will she ever love me too?

She doesn't wanna say for sure
She doesn't wanna tell the no
She doesn't wanna make him wait anymore
She doesn't wanna let him go
He just wants to know if he'll hold her forever
Or hold on to one last goodbye

Is it all over already
Or could it be love this time?
Is it all over already
Or could it be love this time?
