Deep in the night I climb the stairway to the sea
And pretend you were there beside me
So close beside me, watching the sea
I see us there upon the stairway to the sea
Where the mist softly kissed two lovers
Hiding from others our love by the sea

Why try to find a new love when your voice keeps calling me?
I'm just a lonely prisoner of the stairway to the sea
And there you'll find me waiting for the day of your return
But till that day how memories can burn

This is my prayer upon the stairway to the sea
That you soon will be there before me
Whispering adore me, there by the sea

And there you'll find me waiting for the day of your
return
But till that day how memories can burn

This is my prayer upon the stairway to the sea
Whispering adore me, there by the sea

There by the sea
There by the sea
