(Jerry Foster - Bill Rice)

Somewhere in the darkened corners of my mind Lived the memories of the love I had one time
There among the anxious from a burning yesterday
I can't find peace of mind because you touched my life
one time.

Because you touched my life one time and loved me for a day
I'm clinging to a dream come true because you passed my way.

Precious are the moments that I spent with you Treasured more than diamonds are those dreams we knew Tender memories linger from that day when you were mine
And I find peace of mind because you touched my life
one time.

Precious are the moments that I spent with you Treasured more than diamonds are those dreams we
Tender memories linger from that day when you were
mine
And I find peace of mind because you touched my life
one time.

Yes, I find peace of mind because you touched my life
one time...
