"Welomce To Earth"

I was stealing a peak at wheat today
Blown by the wind in vain
I thought the beauty of it's simplicity
Has been replaced by video games

Welcome to Earth, have you got a name
You'll never know your worth, are you glad to came

There is so much for you to figure out
And when you do you'll lose your clue
There's no answers in trying to hum along
Sometimes it's the one thing to do

Welcome to Earth, have you got a name
You'll never know your worth, are you glad to came

Its what you make it, it's hard for us all
There's not a better planet, though the tales are tall
