Hello stranger
Good to se ya
Staring back at me
It's been a long time
I barely recognize
Who I used to be
Yeah it's been a journey of twists and turns
I got a little off track
I had good intentions but bad directions
All I wanna do is go back
Which way is home
I need to know
I'm like a rolling stone down a rocky road
I've been gone gone gone for way too long
I paid the cost of being lost
Which way is home?
Found myself in the pouring rain and let it wash me clean.
It's amazing what a man can see when he's down upon his knees
I had a soul searching revelation!
Yeah it set my chained heart free
I'm so close yet so far from where I want to be
Which way is home
I need to know
I'm like a rolling stone
Down a rocky road
And I been gone gone gone for way too long
And I paid cost for being lost
Which way is home?
Which way is home?
I been up
I been down
I been spun all around
I stumbled and fell through heaven and hell
Now it's time for me to go
Which way is home?
I need to know
I'm like a rolling stone
Down a rocky road
And I've been gone gone gone gone gone for way too long

I paid the cost for being lost
Which way is home?
Which way is home?
Which way his home?
Which way is home?
Which way is home?
I need to know
Which way is home?
