screams of lust we cry tonight you are everything to me you're everything... you're everything to me no more as I wake from this perfect dream I'll escape from Eden's walls can I not stay and live this lie? go away and I'll think only of myself and to think that you would not be scared or surprised if I'd severed all these ties this is the end...

I'll lose myself in anguish for tonight
help me get over you
one last false apology
help me get over you

I feel so numb to see this bitter end of beautiful illusions...would this be the same? broken pieces will not mend to save our past now...go away...

I'll lose myself in anguish for tonight
one last false apology

now we must let go urgency overwhelms me as I must restrain my flood of tears
I refuse to be slave to your false beauty again

I'll lose myself in anguish for tonight
