In the mystery time of cold and rain
I was your boyfriend and you were my friend
Soon the sun lifted you to higher ground
And you went looking for another in the town

You should know there's nothing else to do
But for me to sit and wait for you
In a place where everything taste the same
No mystery time, just cold and rain

I know I lift my values high above ground
But it's a knife in heart not having you around
If an important piece is torn apart
And you need a cure for a heavy heart

Then I'm the champion, yeah I'm the champion you see
I don't wanna beg but come and hang out with me and Ossi
In the archipelago we could swim between the islands
Never mind all the folks and perhaps we could breathe again

Go to sleep, you go to sleep at night
Hugging pillows, passing out on the couch
Me myself I'm lying under the bed
The wooden floor is where I lay my head

I know I lift my values high above the ground
But it's a knife in heart not having you around

Will I ever breathe again?
