

Johnston Freedy "This Perfect World"

Visit "This Perfect World" on MotoLyrics.com

You ought to see your face
You ought to hear your voice
Last time, I was here
I wouldn't turn around
You ought to lock that door
Somebody might get in Didn't I teach you that?
Chorus:
This perfect world
So blue I can't begin to say
This perfect world
I know I never should have gone away
But I still deserve to say goodbye
no matter
what I've done
no matter
what I've done
I see her in your face
Hear her in your voice

Last time I was here
They found her in the lake
You ought to see my scar
You think I'm made of stone
Didn't you tell me that?
Chorus (with 4th line "They say that soon I will be gone away")
Now I've come around it's far too late
And these pills won't even let me cry
No one knows you even when you're gone
But I still deserve to say goodbye
No matter what I've done
No matter what I've done
You ought to see your face
You ought to hear your voice
Lock this after me

Visit Johnston Freedy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.