it's too late, it's too late it's too late this time it's too late, it's too late, it's too late it's too late to turn around can't regain what pasted and i can't be let down if i already gave up i'm tired of looking in the mirror at what i see knowing too well that this ain't me this can't be right this can't be us this can't be life and it can't be love so can you please tell me what the hell i missed love was never suppose to feel like this but the good news is you can lie, you can hide anything that you want

cos this time, you can't say sorry this time, you can't cry for me this time, there's no last chance cos this time, i won't be back and when tomorrow comes i'll be driving on a brand new road i'll be looking for a brand new home as a reminder of the heart you broke i'll leave you the pieces and along with the pieces keep what you need, keep your secrets, keep what makes you you, keep the reasons for why you just won't change see my weakness came from believing you but my strength regained in leaving you i'll be seeing you around you claim to love me even though you let me down well then can you please tell me what the hell i missed

just like when the well runs dry you'll miss water day and night when it hits you that i'm gone you'll be wishing me back home (just like when the well runs dry

this time, you can't say sorry this time, you can't cry for me
and when tomorrow comes (tomorrow) i'll be driving on a brand new road (i'll be driving) i'll be looking for a brand new home
