The first ime we met, it was unexpected was something that happened that very instant but we knew the minute right after the second we'd open the door to a new beginning

And every morning i'd wake up and i would smile at the picture of us right next to the phone and last night it all came apart with one single call

*Dont say its over
and you think its best if the two of us just moved on Tell me that you dont mean it what you said last night
about not needing my love Cause if the memories we shared is all i have left then baby that would be a shame you know that it ain't right, don't make me feel like all that we had is a picture in a frame

I remember everything about that picture and the day we took in the park and what you wrote on the back sometimes we may not be together but our hearts are never far apart

And now you're tellin me that, that everything has an ending just like a beginning and the picture is a moment stuck in time i don't wanna play the victim but i've never felt so hurt, can you tell me..

if the two of us just moved on

then baby that would be a shame

There's no exit for the wrong that i'm takin there's no passion in my heart that you're breaking can't you see you are my life, you make me smile im pourin out my heart and thats why I'm hoping you will feel the same and keep the picture in your heart and not just in your brain

if the two of us just moved on
all that we had is a picture in a frame (x2)
