Who is there to worry about you now If there's a body in your heart to give And there's a world outside of you now, and you gotta let it live
So if you never, ever let it run, I'll never chain you to my life
'Cos I believe you gotta leave your worries behind You know you worry so bad, I never thought that it could hurt me
And if you ever imagine why, I never thought again about me
It seems it only happens when you're feeling good Come and gimme, gimme love until the light shines again
Come and gimme love and let the sun to live Come and gimme, gimme love until you choose my life Never, never gonna let you worry again my love Oh my feelings, don't mess my world my time of day
again
Don't discard my friends, this world seems to break
'em
But again it's something left alone we'll find a way to let it come so true
If you can do, when you know your love is overdue
If I was to let you go out and get it You know your work would be just fine
You want to give a lotta when you gonna get it You never let it come between you in your mind Never talk, talk, talk about You'll always be a friend of mine You're gonna let this sunbeam happen, happen to you Come and gimme gimme gimme love until the light shines again
Come and gimme gimme love right from you Come and gimme gimme love until I lose my pain Come and gimme gimme love I believe in you Everybody
Come come and gimme love and let the light shine through Come come and gimme love just from you, just from you

Yeah, yeah...
