Mmmmmmmmm oooh oooh

The tears that cloud my eyes
Won't let me sleep
You're lying here with me
But you're so far away
The hours pass
I long to hear you speak
Oooh you got a lot to answer for

Feelings
Washing over me
Dealings
Holds me back from what I see
Freedom
Is calling out to me
Taking one small step away from you
Seems such a giant leap

How can I fly into the sun
When you've broken my wings
And left my soul undone
I need to fly into the sun
Though I know what goes up must come down

I can't believe I waited all this time
Hoping that you'll love me like you used to do
Prisoner without committing crime
Tell me where's the dream that I've been searching for

Feelings
Washing over me
Dealings
Holds me back from what I see
Freedom
Is calling out to me
Taking one small step away from you
Seems such a giant leap

How can I fly into the sun
When you've broken my wings
And left my soul undone

I need to fly into the sun
Though I know what goes up must come down

How can I fly into the sun
When you've broken my wings
And left my soul undone
Fly into the sun
Though I know what goes up must come down

Fly into the sun

How can I fly into the sun
When you've broken my wings
And left my soul undone
I need to fly into the sun
Though I know what goes up must come down

Fly into the sun
Fly into the sun
Though I know what goes up must come down
Though I know what goes up must come down
