Jon Mclaughlin
"If Only I"

Visit "If Only I" on MotoLyrics.com

In this old cafe
I come here everyday and watch you, I watch you
Sometimes I hear your voice
Over all the noise you bleed through
And I hear you

And slowly all the faces turn to yours
Like no one else exists anymore
I'd talk to you if only I could speak
And I'd dream of you if only I could sleep

People say love is hell
Some shiny prison cell where time stops
But the doors' unlocked
And now you're a part of me
Trust me I've tried to leave
I've tried to walk
But I'm all talk

And slowly all the faces turn to yours
Like no one else exists anymore
And I'd talk to you if only I could speak
I'd dream of you if I could fall asleep

Then I stand up and go talk to you
You start to smile like you want me to
And we'd stay together for the end of time
But this is only happening in my mind

And slowly all the faces turn to yours
Like no one else exists anymore
And I'd beg for you if only I could speak
And I'd dream of you if I could fall asleep

I'd dream of you if I could fall asleep

Visit Jon Mclaughlin page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.