"I Was Asleep"

We were together in a dream, a fantasy
Trying to make our love come through, as reality

You never told me, I know I was blind
I kept on looking for that something I couldn't find

I was asleep, you never woke me
Diving too deep, to catch my breath
I was too blind, to see it coming, I wish you'd stayed by my side
Now the darkness is gone, the crying is done
I'm standing here by myself

Why did you keep me in the dark, all day and night
Why did you fall into my arms, and hold me tight

I'm starting all over, there's no regret Sometimes I feel I've been using too much time to forget
