What is this he sees all through history?
He has been watching over the lands
Now he just sees tragedy all the world's misery
Are as plain as the lines on his hands

What's this I see
Through the eyes of the king?

Still sits upon his throne, guarded by walls of stone
Through the years he surely has grieved
Look at what the world has done, we have poisoned everyone
Now he sees things he just can't believe

What's this I see
Through the eyes of the king?

He looks for reason why pain fills his eyes
Run, we can't hide from our destiny
Now we face judgment day have we doomed humanity
Is there time for us all to be saved

What's this I see
Through the eyes of the king?
