I'm too young to just want out
But I'm stupid, shy and dumb I'm a man and much too proud To say I don't know out loud.
Tell me darlin' if you're mine

I'm still waiting, I'm the son of a gun
Give me one more reason, got to get me somebody who would understand

You know how I felt, like lovin' you is something like burning in hello
On an old familiar street, where my friends and me could meet
We could bring our girls along, everybody singing songs
Girl I wanna take you there

I'm still waiting, I'm the son of a gun
Give me one more reason got to get me somebody
who would understand

burning in hello
I'm still waiting, I'm the son of a gun
Give me one more reason, got to get me somebody
who would understand
You know how I felt, like lovin' you is something like
burning in hello

I'm still waiting, I'm still waiting, around?
