I never expected
To meet you like this No, not like this
I heard that you moved Way out of town
So far out of town

Across the sea of strangers
In this room with no sympathy

I caught the light Upon your face
But every thing's lost without the grace
I never felt so out of place
No spark. No warmth. No fire.

So how have you been I heard you're doing good You're looking real well
I see your lips moving
But I don't hear a word
No, not a sound
Now my eyes look through your eyes
But his hand is holding your hand [No Fire Lyrics On]
And I caught the light upon your face but everything's lost without the grace. I never felt so out of place
No spark, no warmth, no fire.

Remember those days of rain when we ran for cover we ran together remember those nights alone when we had each other we had each other
and i caught the light upon your face
no spark, no warmth, no fire.
