

Jon Peter Lewis

"Stories from hollywood"

Visit "Stories from hollywood" on MotoLyrics.com

Revolving doors invite your eyes, or so I hear Ask all you want for cheap advice, my mind is clear You think you've got a roulette wheel, under your thumb
Write that one down for your next deal and send me some

So tell me your best, tell me your best stories from Hollywood
You're living the life, living the life that you thought you could Tell me your best, tell me your best stories from Hollywood
You're living the life, living the life that you thought I always, always wanted

This whole town's got a hand in my back pocket Put down some change and don't ask why, get used to it
Red carpets sit and make their bids to show you around But your dreams ate all the good fabric while we made our rounds

Tell me your best, tell me your best stories from Hollywood
You're living the life, living the life that you thought you
could
So tell me your best, tell me your best stories from Hollywood
You're living the life, living the life that you thought I
always, always wanted

Always, always wanted
Always, always wanted?

Visit Jon Peter Lewis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.