You can blow smoke all you want, i see through it anyway
And if it won't work out between us girl, I'm not to blame
So tell me your secrets, and tell me all of your lies You're beautiful tonight

Wanting you won't make the sun fall from the sky
Just like loving you won't stop you saying goodbye
But i couldn't quit hoping if i tried
You're beautiful tonight

Well now she'll get you lost, and you hope to never be found Then suddenly leave you face down, 10 feet from the ground
It's funny how life quickly comes and passes you by
She was beautiful, beautiful
She was beautiful, tonight.
