I have no false faces, I don't like Halloween
Can't conceal my feelings, that remains to be seen
I thought you were the same, 'cause that's what you said
But you threw it all away with the lie that you led

CHORUS:

Don't act so surprised, how much could I take?
Now you realize, that this was your mistake
You broke all your promises, I cannot relate
I'm tired of second-guessing, it was not... my mistake

I only know good graces, honest and true
But you wouldn't get it, they're nothin' like you Tell me what I wanna know - you leave out what's missin'
It happened too much before, I can't believe anything...
, anymore...

CHORUS

Don't act so surprised, how much could I take?
Now you realize, that this was your mistake
You broke all your promises, I cannot relate
I'm tired of second-guessing, it was not... my mistake

Now, I can find some places I'd like to be seen
And I can show my feelings, and be somebody's queen
Sorrow, will follow you through every single door
You threw it all away, and you ain't got me no more...
no more...

CHORUS (2x)

Don't act so surprised, how much could I take?
Now you realize, that this was your mistake
You broke all your promises, I cannot relate
I'm tired of second-guessing, it was not... my mistake
