I can't think tonight I've got this heartache.
Nothing else matters, no one else can relate.
And you're acting, like there is nothing wrong.
It's not news for you - but I just found our love gone.

And now tonight, I've got this heartache.
After what you did, it's all I can take.
I've tried and tried, and I think that it's too late.
And I hope never again, to have this heartache.

I thought you loved me like no one else could.
(Thought that you loved me)
Maybe we'd get married, I thought you just might would.
(Thought that we'd get married)
Cause I thought that I, was the only one.
Then I heard you two together - writing me this song.

And now tonight, I've got this heartache.
After what you did, it's all I can take.
I've tried and tried, and I think that it's too late.
And I hope never again, to have this heartache.

I hope she has what you need, (I hope that she can see)
Something that I - I just don't see, (just what I need)
Well I can't be, something that's just not me.

And now tonight, I've got this heartache.
After what you did, it's all I can take.
I've tried and tried, and I think that it's too late.
And I hope never again, to have this heartache.
And I hope never again, to have this heartache.
