This old road goes on forever
Just like the sound of goodbye
Watching the rain dance in the heavens
Wishing this old mustang could fly
I still hear the screen door slamming
It sounds like thunder in my mind
I still see your ring spinning on the floor
Just like these wheels roll thru the night
The rear view mirror tells a story
Of a life I left behind
These old wheels keep turning round and round and round
I can't drive you from my mind
These all night stations make me lonesome
I hear myself in every song
Looking at the lights of Amarillo
Just one more place I know I don't belong
I know I could have loved you better
I never let you show me how
Out here thing they look so different
But it's all behind me now
The rear view mirror tells a story
Of a life I left behind
These old wheels keep turning round and round and
I can't drive you from my mind
These old wheels keep turning round and round and
round
I can't drive you from my mind
