"Brand New Way To Live"

Ain't it funny how the roots can grow and bare themselves
Way down deep in your soul
You never found all the words to say to explain your age
And how you lost control
And like a snake it will find its way to the darkest place
The darkest place of your heart
And in the end all that you will have is your memories
Of hatred and regret
Let bygones be bygones for good

I found a brand new way to live
Love and let it fly
Love and let it fly
There is so much more to give
Open up your eyes
It's time to kiss the dead goodbye

Everyone that I've counted on has let me down
Every now and then
But I'm not the same that I've used to be cause I've been through hell
But somehow hell changed me
I've learned the art of letting go and moving on There's so much more to life
For what it's worth you can learn from all of my mistakes
So kill your stupid pride

I found a brand new way to live
Love and let it fly
Love and let it fly
There is so much more to give
Open up your eyes
It's time to kiss the dead goodbye

Let bygones be bygones for good

I found a brand new way to live

Love and let it fly
Love and let it fly
There is so much more to give
Open up your eyes
It's time to kiss the dead goodbye
Kiss the dead goodbye
Kiss the dead goodbye
