So it's now how you planned it
Not quite un-quote how it's suppose to be God when did you get so small-minded?
Become so blinded, put down so easily?

It's not a free ride
And the sooner that sinks in the sooner you will find Hurt will go away, and life is so much bigger than the set backs that you face
You're okay, close your eyes and say...

Ba da da dup da da da it's okay
We're gonna keep moving on and on

So it's not how you dreamed it
All the flashing lights and catcalls on hold
It's not ultimate stardom, with beautiful red carpets

Its only work that has started to overload

We all have our days, but you only get so far from playing it safe
You're everything you need, and need nobody else to help you finally succeed
Your okay, just close your eyes and say

Ba da da dup da da da it's okay
We're gonna keep moving on and on

It's not a free ride
And the sooner that sinks in the sooner you will find
You can be, anything, you can be everything today
Just close your eyes and say...

Keep On Moving...
