

Jonas Friedman "Sleeping In"

Visit "Sleeping In" on MotoLyrics.com

It's such a big world out there
It gets so easy to be lost
Swimming through a sea of unclear
Visions, sound alarms and thoughts
It feels cold and overwhelming
With a tight grip, viscously fading
But I have a traced a, silver lining

Back to you...
My eyes, fixed on you like a spotlight
And I can lay through this cold night
A mental photo playing over and over again
Of you and I sleeping in, sleeping in...

(And now it doesn't seem like...)

It's such a big world out there

When there's a map outlined in red
And our hands are clasped so tight dear
Staring down the path ahead

My eyes, fixed on you like a spotlight
And I can lay through this cold night
A mental photo playing over and over again
Of you and I sleeping in, sleeping in...

I get this crazy idea sometime
There's something bigger and more true
Than just breathing out and in
It's me and you... me and you

Written By Jonas Friedman
Copyright 2007 Rolling Records

Visit Jonas Friedman page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.