

Jonas Friedman "Through Legacy"

Visit "Through Legacy" on MotoLyrics.com

Everyone is waiting on someone else
To take the lead, and show them all through hell
As the world gets warmer and the days get shorter
We all turn for answers from anyone but ourselves

It's time to change
Cause I feel everyday just a little more of the weight

Of the world coming down on me
If we could breathe together, we can clean up so well, clean up so well
We could live through legacies forever, before it's too late

Everyone is blaming
It's all your fault
