Now you luck's run out
And the time has come
To reinvent your world
'Cause instead of getting better
You got older
So you take a chance, go against the odds
To make the big wheel spin
Praying there's an angel on your shoulder
You've been dreaming about happy endings
There's only starting over again

Life goes on, we come back around
Full circle
It's funny somehow
We're back where we started
Full circle

As you take her hand with a band of gold
And you promise all your love
The wedding bells don't always ring forever
When the clock has stopped, gotta wind it up
So the pendulum will swing
Rediscover why we came together
On the way to losing each other
You fall in love all over again
