

Jonathan Cain

"Little River"

Visit "Little River" on MotoLyrics.com

The morning you were born
The rain came down
I felt it wash my fears away
Showing me a mirror to my soul
Reflections of a brand new day
Run, little river, a world waits for you
As you wind through fields of dreams
My love will see you through

Born to be apart of me
Where waters flow as one
Run, little river, run

I watch you getting stronger every day
Where you turn the flowers grow
There'll be times when things get in your way
My faith in you will roll away the stones
Run, little river, the world waits for you
As you wind through fields of dreams
My love will see you through
Born to be a part of me
Where waters flow as one
Run, little river, run
Through my life I search for
Peace that you have now, as the secret
Of your journey run so deep
Baptize me in your waters
Set my spirit free
And into the sea you'll flow
As I learn to let you go

Run, little river, the world waits for you
As you wind through fields of dreams
My love will see you through
Born to be a part of me
Where waters flow as one
Run, little river, run
Little river run

