

Jonathan Cain

"Something Sacred"

Visit "Something Sacred" on MotoLyrics.com

I've seen a mountain crumble into dust
And faceless men trying to sell religion
In tall steel towers
Built on promises that've turned to rush
These times we're living in
Who you gonna trust
Out of the wreckage and the chaos
Stands a solitary rose
A touch of beauty in a savage garden
On the winds of mercy
I found you and the miracle grows
In a faithless world, baby we got
Something sacred
We can hold onto
A higher ground I've found with you
Something sacred
A prayer come true
Love we can believe in

We found an island in a hungry sea
A Sheltered world
The rock of our salvation
But we got lucky
We were rescued by what's meant to be
Heart and soul, baby you and me got
Something sacred
We can hold onto
A higher ground I've found with you
Something sacred
A prayer come true
Love we can believe in

We've walked in the shadows
Had our share of lonely nights
We've lost some battles
Somehow me never gave up the fight but
We could see the light

Visit Jonathan Cain page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
