Come outside and see the downpour
Our lives are changing by the second
It's not as you thought it was
I don't think it ever was
To begin with

And I can't?
I can only live the outcome
And we're doing it again
To ourselves and those around us
Each day is another chance
To fade into the ground
To disappear beneath the clouds

Come outside and see the downfall
Our lives are met with devastation

It's not that we can't defeat
We're blind by the suffering
To begin with

And I can't?
I can only live the outcome
And we're doing it again
To ourselves and those around us
Each day is another chance
To fade into the ground
To disappear beneath the clouds

Come outside and see the downpour
Our lives are changing by the second
It's not as you thought it was
