"Losing Sleep"

There are days we've both moved on
Still I can't remember
Why did we assault each other
We're such a struggle

And it seems so long ago
Still I can't recover
Why would we embrace the struggle
And hurt each other

And it's getting hard to sleep
When you're lying next to me
When the devastation I've endured once seemed impossible
And it's getting hard to sleep
And I'm struggling to breathe
I'd give anything to end this pain that seems unstoppable

There are days we've both moved one
Still I can't remember
Why did we assault each other
We're such a struggle

And it's getting hard to sleep
When you're lying next to me
When the devastation I've endured once seemed
impossible
And it's getting hard to sleep
And I'm struggling to breathe
I'd give anything to end this pain that seems
unstoppable
