I've got a feeling in my chest
Everything's changing and I don't know what to do with that.
I think of all the ways I've changed,
Then think of all the ways I've stayed the same.

I've got a feeling in my chest
It's like I took a .45 straight into it.
And I can fight it all I want,
But in the end I only wrestle with myself.
Oh I've tried

And I've tried, to focus on the sound (cause you're the only one I want to hear)
Of your voice as I hear it through the crowd
That surrounds my heart on every side
Come end this siege of mine.

I've got a voice inside my head
That tells me when I've said too much about it
It doesn't want to be revealed
'Cause then I'd have to learn to deal with it.

And that could be so hard
I don't know where to start

My heart is waiting for only you
My mind is searching for only truth
My soul is longing to reach somewhere new
If I must be captured then let it be by you
