Yesterday got a page and it said that my daddy died but I could'ntcry we had a fight long time ago by the liquor store said I didn't wanna see your face no more see I know pops was just a man but how you hurt someone you love I don't understand telephone rings and what am I supposed to do ooooh whoooooa Heaven can you hear me father can you help me on my knees and pray'n please come through my world is slowly dyin' and lord I'm really tryn' it's been awhile since I last talked to you mama saidg ver makes mistakes if thatstrue then I really need to see your face so I'll know it's gonna be ok (ooook)

I pulled up about five to see my people at my mamas house to see what they was talkin' 'bout I havent seen 'um in a long time (baby are you doin' fine) now it's time to tell 'um what's been on my mind who was there to wipe my tears away and who decided not to show up on my weddin' day so ya'll tell me what am I supposed to do I just need to hear from you

Livin' in this world ain't easy you wanna give up sometimes and even though I got my girl beside me a fathers love is hard to find see every boywants his daddy there fells like his daddy cares feels like his daddy will be there watchin' on his graduation day and be ther to take the pain away

To every daddy that might hear this song see one day you'll look up and your baby be grown yeah you can't get back all the years that's past so while you have the chance you better make it last didn't get the chance to say goodbye and I wish that I could see you one more time and now I gotta keep my mama strong guess you never miss something til' it's gone!

... gonna be okay okay okay okay
In the midnight hour Late in teh evening
Even in teh mornin' time It's gonna be O
Said it's gonna be alright Sadi it gonna be AIII
Alright
