They say the best in life is never free,
So we just watch it from the sidelines then get up and leave
But looking back on how we used to live
I begin to wonder if we ever really did
But I don't mind, I'm just waiting to draw the line
Feel no pain, in this circle go round again
And climb up on the roof-tops,
It's a roller coaster game

So, run for cover, here comes the thunder
The skies have opened but we can't decide
So just run for cover, don't stop and wonder
If we'll be waiting on the other side
When all we're left with is a photograph to remember

On just another rainy day

We watch the clock but we're always out of time,
The traffic's slow, so far to go, it's just another sign We're making promises we'll never keep
And we don't even look for answers we can take defeat
But it's just fine, I'm alright with a compromise Feel no shame, out of our hands now we're not to blame
Let's climb up on the roof-tops
It's a roller coaster game
