There must be a way to help me forget that were through
There must be a way to stop me from dreamin of you There must be a star in the skies that isn't reflecting your eyes
I just don't know how to disguise how much I miss you

There must be a kiss thatll thrill me like yours used to do
I look for a way to be happy, happy with somebody new Oh, there must be a way but I can't find a way without you

Yes, there must be a kiss thatll thrill me like yours used to do
I look for a way to be happy, happy with somebody new
you
