Put on that smile it's time to face another day
Tell everybody, everything's okay
How much longer can you play this game?
Tell me how much more can you take?

I see the broken heart you try so hard to hide
I see the tears you hold back in your eyes
I send this song that you might realize
You're not alone and I'll be there

Like the sun that continues to shine
Just beyond all the clouds in the sky
And whenever it feels like I'm so far away
Remember my love remains, yeah, yeah

I see the fear and doubt that paralyzes you
Could lived on dreams but you never followed through Open the door I'll come in if you want me to
You're not alone and I'll be there

Like the sun that continues to shine
Just beyond all the clouds in the sky
And whenever I seem to be so far away
Remember my love remains, my love remains

Before there were mountains, seas or any stars above
You were loved
Know that when all of these ceased to be would remain
As you and me, forever, ever and ever

You're not alone and I'll be there

Like the sun that continues to shine
Just beyond all the clouds in the sky
And if trouble comes into your life
Even your best friends leave your side

And you can't find a stand to fight
Well, please keep this one thing in mind
And whenever it feels like I'm so far away
Remember my love remains, yeah, yeah

Oh,I'll never get by without you love
Whenever you need me just call my name
My love remains
