Heart is heavy, my soul is thirsty, body's aching
I am desperately in need of restoration
And I am ready for You to take me higher, yeah
The only thing that I can do is, keep on praying

'Cause on my own I just can't get it right
It doesn't matter how hard I try
But with You I become a much stronger man
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again

Load is heavy, too much accumulation, yeah
These possessions that I have amount to nothing at all
And I am willing to hand over every one of them
'Cause they won't profit me, anything in the end

On my own I just can't get it right
It doesn't matter how hard I try
But with You I become a much stronger man
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again

Never again will I wander without You
Alone in the wilderness, no, I won't
Never again will I offer to You anything
Less than my very best, O Jesus

Never again, never again
Now that I understand

On my own I just can't get it right
It doesn't matter how hard I try
But with You I become a much stronger man
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again

On my own I just can't get it right
It doesn't matter how hard I try
But with You I become a much stronger man
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet
Getting on my knees puts me back on my feet again

Yeah, yeah, yeah
